HARLAN'S HOME RUN.

Supreme Court Justice Made Four Base Hit and Won Game.

Justice Harlan of the United States supreme court, aged seventy-four, made a home run and won the game in a baseball contest at the annual shanty lake given by the Washington Bar association at Marshall Hall, Md., the other day, says a Washington special dispatch to the New York World.

When Justice Harlan went to the bat, the score was a tie, and the umpire had called two strikes and three balls. It was a critical and exciting moment. Justice Harlan smashed the sphere a wicked swat to deep center. He started around the bases and his leg work was really marvelous. His sprinting qualities surprised and delighted the fans, who were wild with enthusiasm.

The ball went over the head of the center fielder and was lost in the tall grass. Before it was recovered Justice Harlan had reached the home plate, where he stood slipping a mint julep which had been prepared hurriedly for the agile Kentuckian as a reward for lining out a four base hit.

New Cable to the Balearic Islands.

The Spanish government recently laid a submarine cable from Barcelona to Palma de Mallorca, in the Balearic Islands. The cable is 117 miles long and was put down by a London company in less than two days, says the New York Sun. The contract price, $145,995, will be paid by the Spanish government. The line has long been needed for commercial purposes. Barcelona is the chief commercial metropolis of Spain, with a population of about 700,000, and Palma de Mallorca is the principal city of the Balearic Islands, with 70,000 population, and is the seat of considerable industry.

GRAND MIMIC WAR SCENE.

Reproduction of Monitor-Merrimac Engagement at Jamestown Exposition.

There are many people now living in the vicinity of Hampton Roads who will remember the terrible days of March 8 and 9, 1862, to the last hours of their lives. On those days the bravest of them risked the missiles of death and thronged the shores to become eyewitnesses of the most unique naval engagement in the history of the world, the struggle between the Merrimac and the Monitor.

To those who witnessed this famous event as well as to those millions of visitors to Norfolk, Va., from all parts of this and other countries to whom the details of the battle are familiar as matters of history one feature of the Jamestown exposition will be of especial interest. This will be the spectacular reproduction of the great engagement which occurred just off the exposition grounds in Hampton Roads, and the presentation will be given in as realistic manner as the perfect equipment of the present day will allow. The historical location so near the actual scene of the occurrence lends added interest to the reproduction, and it is sure to be one of the decided attractions of the exposition.

The scene of the battle will be cyclorama and will be as grand a sight as the human eye ever beheld. The scene opens the day before the battle between the Ironclads and shows the sun just setting upon the leaping flames of the burning Congress and the sinking Cumberland, with her cannon booming and her crew cheering as the ship settles beneath the waves and the brave fighters going down to death rather than surrender. The victorious Merrimac is seen slowly steaming away to the shelter of the Confederate shore batteries to await the coming of dawn to complete the work of destruction.
